

FORDS, NOT CASH, TO HELP WILSON

Auto Maker Sure Peace Orator and Runabouts Will Aid.

HE AND EDISON CHAT WITH MCCORMICK

Chairman Invites Them to Luncheon and Gets Advice on Publicity.

This is to announce that Henry Ford is earnestly backing the candidacy of President Wilson and is willing to do anything in his power to help the cause of the President—anything but contribute to the campaign fund. If the Democratic National Committee should need a few reliable runabouts for light campaigners; it is to be sure for a few repairs on the divers it now has in use, or if it should need an orator who specializes in peace propaganda, why, Detroit's favorite son is the man for them.

But what the Democratic National Committee's detectives are searching the country for just now are a select few millionaires who are desirous of making generous gifts to the campaign fund. And that is exactly what Mr. Ford insists he is not. The reason is a secret which is being safely guarded by the three men who heard it—Thomas Edison, Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Mr. Ford himself.

Ford and Edison See McCormick.

Mr. Edison and Mr. Ford slipped into New York and over to national headquarters at just about lunch time. So Mr. McCormick, who had spent large sums of other people's contributions telegraphing interviews from both men throughout the country, smiled broadly and invited them to luncheon with him at the Biltmore.

"We both are anxious to see Mr. Wilson re-elected, and we want to know how we can best help the cause," said Mr. Ford, speaking for himself and Mr. Edison.

"Why, there are many ways," readily agreed Mr. McCormick, drawing a paper from his pocket on which were marked the sums needed to pay the big bills that are received at headquarters daily.

"Yes, we might give you some good ideas on publicity," hurriedly added Mr. Ford.

"Why, I'm sure we could," said Mr. Edison. "Once the people learn the facts there will be a landslide for the President."

Contribute Publicity Ideas.

There was considerable more said about methods of helping the cause, but Mr. Ford stuck to the proposition of helping on the publicity end of the work, with the result that Mr. McCormick took his two visitors back to headquarters and introduced them to Robert W. Woolley, head of that department.

It was pointed out later that telegraph tolls and luncheons at the Biltmore could not be procured without cash, but at a late hour last night nothing had been learned of any contribution from Mr. McCormick's visitors.

Throughout the day leaders at national headquarters received bulletins from the depths of Long Island telling of the activities of Samuel Seabury, who began his campaign for the Governorship in Nassau County during the morning. He was described as arousing great enthusiasm by assailing Governor Whitman as extravagant and incompetent in practically every village in the county.

Mr. Seabury spoke from an automobile at practically all of his meetings. He will complete his Long Island tour to-day preparatory to beginning his upstate trip Monday.

Californian Attends Taft-T. R. Reunion Then Hurries Over to Vance McCormick with a $250 Check. So Publicity Man Says.

Chairman Invites Them to Luncheon and Gets Advice on Publicity.

No matter what other results may follow in the wake of the Taft-Roosevelt reunion at the Union League Club, custodians of the Democratic campaign fund insist that their coffers have been enriched by $250 because it was held. Their reasoning may appear somewhat involved to some, but C. A. Hawkins, California Progressive, says that it is just as if a benefit had been given by the Republicans for the purpose of dumping that sum into the Democratic strong box.

Mr. Hawkins, according to the facts that were given out by the Democratic publicity men yesterday, received an invitation to attend the Union League function. Although not entirely in sympathy with the movement, he is quoted as saying that he went over to "see the men who were backing Hughes." Having looked, he is described as making a hurried trip, not to Republican, but Democratic headquarters.

According to the same unquestioned authority, the exacting Mr. Hawkins dropped a check for $250 into the lap of Chairman Vance McCormick of the Democratic National Committee, saying:

"There is at the present time prosperity in spots—a kind of leopard prosperity—but in certain sections of the country, you know and I know, that there is adversity, and this has been caused by the adoption of the policies of the Democratic party. The Democratic party is a great kicking party, to use an Indiana phrase, and I believe it will be kicked out on November 7."

8 SELECTED TO PROGRESSIVES TO PROGRESSIVES

Two Downstate Nominees Withdraw for Harmony.

SOLID SUPPORT OF PARTY IS EXPECTED

Republicans See Offset to Shadow Lawn Pillgrimage.

At the meeting of the Republican State Committee yesterday the Progressives won the eight places on the Presidential electoral ticket among the Republican forty-five from this state, pursuant to the demand they made at the recent Saratoga conference. None of the upstate Electors designated at Saratoga was willing to withdraw in favor of the Bull Moose, and all eight places were made in the Congressional districts in or near greater New York. Most of the members of the state committee were represented by proxy at the meeting.

The "old guard" leaders had insisted that six places left vacant at Saratoga were a sufficient representation on the electoral ticket for the Progressives. Members of the Republican National Committee and Governor Whitman were for giving the Progressives all they wanted in the interest of harmony. State Chairman Frederick C. Tanner carried the fight of the upstate leaders into the committee meeting yesterday, but the Wilcox-Perkins-Whitman influence prevailed.

Chairman Tanner announced to the committee, however, that he had no objection to the Progressives having the eight places if any of the regularly designated Electors could be found who would withdraw. He added that the places could not be made upstate, and that the upstate leaders were strongly opposed to more than six.

F. J. H. Kracke, the Brooklyn leader and Governor Whitman's campaign manager, and Samuel S. Koenig, chairman of the Republican State Committee, came forward with the two places needed.

Two Electors Withdraw.

E. W. Voorhies, Commissioner of Public Works in Brooklyn, and William C. Hecht, Republican leader of the 20th Assembly District, withdrew from the list of Electors. William L. Ransom, City Court Judge, was selected to fill the place in the 18th Congressional District which Mr. Hecht had vacated, and John George, Republican leader of the 12th Assembly District, was selected to fill the place in the 12th Congressional District.

The other Progressive Electors are Oscar S. Straus, in the 20th Congressional District; William Hamlin Childs, in the 7th District; Henry L. Stoddard, in the 11th; Ernest Cawford, of Jamestown, in the 12th; Walter A. Johnson, chairman of the Progressive State Committee, in the 12th; and Beveridge C. Dunlop, of Spring Valley, Rockland County, in the 16th.

One of the arguments used before the state committee in favor of giving the Progressives the eight places would be that the Progressives had conceded all the Progressives wanted in the electoral college, in the opinion of several of the Republican state committee members, and they asked that it would be somewhat offset the play being made to-day by some of the radical Bull Moose by joining the pilgrimage to Shadow Lawn. SIX BLACKMAIL WARRANTS OUT

Court Acts in $15,000 West Extortion Case.

Judge Sheppard, in the Criminal Branch of the United States District Court, issued warrants yesterday afternoon for five men and one woman indicted for the $15,000 Mann blackmailing plot of which Edward R. West, of Chicago, was the victim. Two of the men named by West when he told his story before the Federal grand jury are at large. For that reason their names were not divulged. The other three are William Butler, now serving a sentence in Atlanta, and Homer T. French and James Christian, under arrest in Chicago. Buda Gorman, who, posing as Alice Williams, lured West to New York, is the woman indicted.

In Chicago at the same time warrants were issued for members of the so-called blackmail syndicate who are alleged to have taken a little fire in another line of swindling. Armed with the warrants, detectives are after "Doc" Donnelly and a man known as James D. Kirkland. The latter posed as the inventor of an "electric fly screen" and Donnelly impersonated Samuel P. Farmy, a Chicago capitalist, who supposedly had acquired Kirkland's patent rights in exchange for a $10,000 trust deed.

A woman who played the part of the inventor's wife had managed to dispose of the trust deed, impersonating a title and trust company, other lawyers and a real estate dealer, before the real Farmy exposed the fraud.

Gregory Fights Suit.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Attorney General Thomas W. Gregory to-day asked the Supreme Court to dismiss the suit brought in that court by New Mexico against Secretary Lane, of the Interior Department, contesting title claimed by the Federal government to coal lands in the Gallup, N. M., field. The state claims the lands under a Federal grant for school purposes. The United States contends that coal and other mineral lands were withheld in the grant.
